Brooks McLain of Burlington Fairfield Inn Named Opening GM of the Year

Burlington, WA- March 25, 2008- Brooks McLain, General Manager of the Burlington Fairfield Inn & Suites, was recently awarded Opening GM of the Year by Marriott International. The award was presented in March during the Select Service General Manager Conference in Anaheim, CA.

General Managers at all 32 Fairfield Inn & Suites properties which opened in 2007 were eligible. Criteria for the award include: overall hotel leadership, team building and development, financial management, sales leadership, community service and guest service skills.

McLain joined InnSight Hotel Management Group, which manages the Burlington hotel, in 2003 and was recognized as InnSight's Manager of the Year in 2005. In January 2007, he was chosen as the General Manager for the new Fairfield Inn & Suites. He navigated the property through a lengthy opening and has retained nearly his entire opening crew. McLain and his staff's dedication to service led the property to finish #10 out of more than 500 Fairfield Inns in Overall Satisfaction for 2007.

Patrick McShane, Executive Vice President of InnSight Hotel Management Group, said "Brooks is truly a star in the hospitality industry. He knows that treating guests, associates and the community in a respectful and compassionate way is the key to running a good hotel business. We are very proud that Marriott has recognized Brooks' ingenuity, passion and business savvy with this prestigious national award."
