Portland/Hillsboro SpringHill Suites Named Hotel of the Year HOTEL DOMINATES WITH 8 MARRIOTTAWARDS

HILLSBORO, OR- March 25, 2008- The Portland-Hillsboro SpringHill Suites was honored with an impressive eight top awards from Marriott International, including Hotel of the Year. The awards were presented in March during the Select Service General Manager Conference in Anaheim, CA. Almost two hundred SpringHill Suites by Marriott were eligible for the 2007 awards. The eight awards won by the Portland/Hillsboro hotel represent outstanding achievements ranging from leadership skills to community service.

To qualify as a finalist for Hotel of the Year, the hotel was first named a Diamond Circle Hotel in recognition of top guest service scores, quality assurance inspections and financial results. The hotel was also honored with Top Operations Hotel of the Year, Fewest Problem Incidents Award and Highest Guest Satisfaction-Staff Service Award.

Three individuals from the hotel received recognition for their contributions to their hotel and the SpringHill Suites by Marriott brand. Following his win as General Manager of the Year in 2006, Terry Goldman won the Service Excellence Award. Kate Van Nortwick was recognized as Sales Leader of the Year and Ronald DeLeon, Suite Care Manager, was named Associate of the Year.

Patrick McShane, Executive Vice President of InnSight Hotel Management Group, said “We could not be more pleased or proud of Terry and his team. Their commitment to excellence and dedication to InnSight, Marriott and our guests is unwavering. We are especially grateful that the individual contributions of Ronald, Kate and Terry have been recognized. They consistently meet and exceed the high standards they set for themselves. We are honored to have them as leaders in our company.”
